

Privacy notice for parents/carers, September 2024

1. Introduction

Under UK data protection law, individuals have a right to be informed about how the academy uses any personal data that we hold about them. We comply with this right by providing 'privacy notices' (sometimes called 'fair processing notices') to individuals where we are processing their personal data.

This privacy notice explains how we collect, store and use personal data about pupils and families.

This privacy notice also applies while we believe your child is not capable of understanding and exercising their own UK data protection rights.

Once your child is able to understand their rights over their own data (generally considered to be age 12, but this has to be considered on a case-by-case basis), you should instead refer to our privacy notice for pupils to see what rights they have over their own personal data.

Olive Academies, Training & Development Centre, Inskip Drive, Hornchurch, RM11 3UR is the 'data controller' for the purposes of UK data protection law.

Our data protection officer is Kuda Mika (see 'Contact us' below).

2. The personal data we hold

Personal data that we may collect, use, store and share (when appropriate) about you or your child includes, but is not restricted to:

- contact details, contact preferences, date of birth, identification documents
- characteristics (such as ethnicity, language, and free school meal eligibility)
- safeguarding information (such as court orders and professional involvement)
- pupil and curricular records
- details of any support received, including care packages, plans and support providers
- medical and administration (such as doctor's information, child health, dental health, allergies, medication and dietary requirements)
- attendance (such as sessions attended, number of absences, absence reasons and any previous schools attended)
- results of internal assessments and externally set tests
- behavioural information (such as exclusions and any relevant alternative provision put in place)

We may also collect, store and use information about pupils and families that falls into "special categories" of more sensitive personal data. This includes information about (where applicable):

- characteristics, such as ethnicity, languages spoken and eligibility for certain benefits
- family circumstances
- physical and mental health, including medical conditions
- photographs and CCTV images captured in school
- support received, including care packages, plans and support providers

Personal data that we may collect, use, store and share (when appropriate) about parents/carers includes, but is not restricted to:

- contact details and contact preferences
- bank details
- photographs and CCTV images captured in school

3. Why we use this data

The personal data collected is essential, for the academy to fulfil its official functions and meet legal requirements.

We use this data to:

- a) to support pupil learning
- b) to monitor and report on pupil attainment progress
- c) to provide appropriate pastoral care
- d) to assess the quality of our services
- e) to keep children safe (food allergies, or emergency contact details)
- f) to meet the statutory duties placed upon us by the Department for Education (DfE)

3.1 Use of your personal data for marketing purposes

Where you have given us consent to do so, Olive Academies may send you marketing information by email or text promoting school events, campaigns, charitable causes or services that may be of interest to you. You can withdraw consent or 'opt out' of receiving these emails and/or texts at any time by emailing the office manager at the academy or by contacting our data protection officer.

3.2 Use of personal data in automated decision making and profiling

We do not currently process any personal data through automated decision making or profiling. If this changes in the future, we will amend any relevant privacy notices to explain the processing to you, including your right to object to it.

4. Our lawful basis for using this data:

We only collect and use personal data when the law allows us to. Most commonly, we process it where:

- we need to comply with a legal obligation
- we need it to perform an official task in the public interest

Less commonly, we may also process personal data in situations where:

- we have obtained consent to use it in a certain way, e.g. use of photos
- we need to protect the individual's vital interests (or someone else's interests).

Further information is available from the ICO here.

Where you have provided us with consent to use your, or your child's data, you may withdraw this consent at any time. We will make this clear when requesting your consent, and explain how you would go about withdrawing consent if you wish to do so.

4.1 Our basis for using special category data

For 'special category' data, we only collect and use it when we have both a lawful basis, as set out above, and one of the following conditions for processing as set out in UK data protection law:

- We have obtained your explicit consent to use your child's personal data in a certain way
- We need to perform or exercise an obligation or right in relation to employment, social security or social protection law
- We need to protect an individual's vital interests (i.e. protect your child's life or someone else's life), in situations where you're physically or legally incapable of giving consent

- The data concerned has already been made manifestly public by you
- We need to process it for the establishment, exercise or defence of legal claims
- We need to process it for reasons of substantial public interest as defined in legislation
- We need to process it for health or social care purposes, and the processing is done by, or under the direction of, a health or social work professional or by any other person obliged to confidentiality under law
- We need to process it for public health reasons, and the processing is done by, or under the direction of, a health professional or by any other person obliged to confidentiality under law
- We need to process it for archiving purposes, scientific or historical research purposes, or for statistical purposes, and the processing is in the public interest

For criminal offence data, we will only collect and use it when we have both a lawful basis, as set out above, and a condition for processing as set out in UK data protection law. Conditions include:

- We have obtained your consent to use it in a specific way
- We need to protect an individual's vital interests (i.e. protect your child's life or someone else's life), in situations where you are physically or legally incapable of giving consent
- The data concerned has already been made manifestly public by you
- We need to process it for, or in connection with, legal proceedings, to obtain legal advice, or for the establishment, exercise or defence of legal rights
- We need to process it for reasons of substantial public interest as defined in legislation

5. Collecting this information

We collect pupil and family information via registration forms completed at the beginning of a pupil's time at the academy and/or secure file transfer from a previous school.

While most information we collect is mandatory, some information can be provided voluntarily. Whenever we seek to collect information from you or your child, we make it clear whether providing it is mandatory or optional. If it is mandatory, we will explain the possible consequences of not complying.

Most of the data we hold about your child and family will come from you, but we may also hold data about your child and family from:

- Local authorities
- Government departments or agencies
- Police forces, courts, tribunals

6. How we store this data

We keep personal information about your family and child while they are attending our academy. We may also keep it beyond their attendance at our academy if necessary to comply with our legal obligations. Our data retention policy sets out how long we keep information. It is available on the academy website or from the academy office.

We have put in place appropriate security measures to prevent your personal information from being accidentally lost, used or accessed in an unauthorised way, altered or disclosed.

We will dispose of your personal data securely when we no longer need it.

7. Who we share data with

We do not share information about pupils and their families with any third party without consent unless the law and our policies allow us to do so.

Where it is legally required, or necessary (and it complies with UK data protection law) we may share your personal information with:

- our local authority – to meet our legal obligations to share certain information with it to ensure they can conduct their statutory duties under the Schools Admission Code, including conducting Fair Access Panels
- the Department for Education (see below)
- the pupil’s family and representatives
- educators and examining bodies, for example in situations of exam misconduct
- security organisations, for safeguarding and fire evacuation purposes where relevant
- health and social welfare organisations, for any safeguarding purposes
- police force, courts, tribunals to provide data for civil or criminal prosecution
- youth support services (pupils aged 13+ and 16+) (see below)
- schools

National Pupil Database

We are required to provide information about pupils to the Department for Education as part of statutory data collections such as the school census.

Some of this information is then stored in the National Pupil Database (NPD), which is owned and managed by the Department for Education and provides evidence on school performance to inform research.

The database is held electronically so it can easily be turned into statistics. The information is securely collected from a range of sources including schools, local authorities and exam boards.

The Department for Education may share information from the NPD with third parties, such as other organisations which promote children’s education or wellbeing in England. These third parties must agree to strict terms and conditions about how they will use the data.

For more information, see the Department for Education’s webpage on how it collects and shares research data.

You can also contact the Department for Education with any further questions about the NPD.

Youth support services

We will also share certain information about students who are 16 and over with our LA and/or providers of youth support services. This is because they have responsibilities in relation to the education or training of 13 to 19-year-olds under section 507B of the Education Action 1996.

This enables them to provide services as follows:

- Post-16 education and training providers
- Youth support services
- Careers advisers

We securely transfer information to the youth support services via the following method:

Files will be encrypted before sending to the youth support service.

The youth support services stores and retains this information in line with their policies. You can find details about how the services manage information by following the links below:

7.1 Transferring data internationally

We may share personal information about you with international third parties such as security organisations, or other schools, where different data protection legislation applies.

Where we transfer your personal data to a third-party country or territory, we will do so in accordance with UK data protection law.

In cases where we have to set up safeguarding arrangements to complete this transfer, you can get a copy of these arrangements by contacting us

8. Your rights

8.1 How to access personal information that we hold about you

You have a right to make a 'subject access request' to gain access to personal information that we hold about you.

If you make a subject access request, and if we do hold information about you, we will (subject to any exemptions that apply):

- Give you a description of it
- Tell you why we are holding and processing it, and how long we will keep it for
- Explain where we got it from, if not from you
- Tell you who it has been, or will be, shared with
- Let you know whether any automated decision-making is being applied to the data, and any consequences of this
- Give you a copy of the information in an intelligible form

You may also have the right for your child's personal information to be transmitted electronically to another organisation in certain circumstances. If you would like to make a request, please contact us (see 'Contact us' below).

Once your child is able to understand their rights over their own data (generally considered to be age 12, but this has to be considered on a case-by-case basis), we will need to obtain consent from your child for you to make a subject access request on their behalf.

8.2 Your other rights regarding your *(or your child's) data

Under UK data protection law, you have certain rights regarding how your child's personal data is used and kept safe. For example, you have the right to:

- Object to our use of your personal data
- Prevent your data being used to send direct marketing
- Object to and challenge the use of your child's) personal data for decisions being taken by automated means (by a computer or machine, rather than by a person)
- In certain circumstances, have inaccurate personal data corrected
- In certain circumstances, have the personal data we hold about you or your child deleted or destroyed, or restrict its processing
- Withdraw your consent, where you previously provided it for the collection, processing and transfer of your or your child's personal data for a specific purpose
- In certain circumstances, be notified of a data breach
- Make a complaint to the Information Commissioner's Office
- Claim compensation for damages caused by a breach of the UK data protection regulations

To exercise any of these rights, please contact us (see 'Contact us' below).

*Once your child is able to understand their rights over their own data (generally considered to be age 12, but this has to be considered on a case-by-case basis), we will need to obtain consent from your child for you to make these requests on their behalf.

9. Complaints

We take any complaints about our collection and use of personal information very seriously.

If you think that our collection or use of personal information is unfair, misleading or inappropriate, or have any other concern about our data processing, please raise this with us in the first instance.

Alternatively, you can make a complaint to the Information Commissioner's Office:

- Report a concern online at <https://ico.org.uk/make-a-complaint/>
- Call 0303 123 1113
- Or write to: Information Commissioner's Office, Wycliffe House, Water Lane, Wilmslow, Cheshire, SK9 5AF

10. Contact us
